its people

As the routine of each day on campus unfolds itself, we encounter many faces, some familiar and some not, those of friends, professors, and official employees. But there are always those which tend to stand out in the minds of us all, often as symbols of inspiration and leadership. One thinks first of the president of MTSC, Dr. Quill E. Cope, whose loyal devotion and tireless efforts have helped to mold this institution into what it represents today.

Mrs. Bonnie McHenry is another familiar face around campus. Her many, many years of faithful service as secretary to every MTSC president was publically recognized just last year in the naming of a new girls' dormitory after her. McHenry Hall now stands as a tribute to "Miss Bonnie" who has dedicated her entire life to the service of MTSC.

The daily routine continues, in and out of classrooms, a trip to the library, a hurried lunch in the terrace room . . . But college is not all work. Aside from the rewards of learning there are the pleasures of relaxation and recreation . . . a picnic after classes, a crisp slice of watermelon on a warm spring afternoon . . . These are the things which make up college life, the sharing of responsibilities in work and play.

There is always a strong element of mutual respect for others represented on this campus, regardless of race, creed, or color. We learn that we must respect the rights and beliefs of our fellowman, in college as well as throughout life. We learn to take criticism, to follow instructions, and more important to accept defeat . . . whether on the football field, in the classroom or in any personal relationship.

MTSC has opened its doors to students from all over the world and has made each new student feel welcome and wanted. This year there are perhaps more foreign students attending MTSC than at any time in its history. The reward of this comes from the feeling of common brotherhood which is prevalent in every aspect of college life.

people

Meeting friends, cheering loudly, sharing the excitement of wanting to win . . . rejoicing together over victory, or perhaps sharing the disappointments of defeat . . . These are the things which unite us and give us a sense of school spirit.

Our Indian, "Chief" Robertson, pictured above represents the way we all feel . . . a desire to be victorious. He is a traditional symbol of our spirit and excitement.

But the true reward comes not in a victorious game but rather in the closeness and spirit which are created as a result of this mutual desire to win. Whether or not we win or lose will soon be forgotten, but the fun and excitement we shared in reaching that victory or defeat will always be remembered.

its phases

The phases of college life are many, mixed and mingled with human emotions, desires and individual goals. Sometimes there are seemingly endless responsibilities and frustrations . . . an assignment due, a speech to write, a novel to read, the pressure builds . . . But finally, ultimately success is reached . . . or perhaps failure. A serious moment, a despondent mood, a bitter disappointment . . . but these times pass, and happy, shining faces emerge from the dark corners of struggle and pursuit. All these things go into campus life and are an important part of learning, growing and living. Collected together here are the many, all striving, each in his own way, to success, sharing the pleasures of life and bearing the humiliations of failure and disappointment. These are the phases of college life and each represents an important part in the process of maturing.

its progress

Progress is visibly unlimited on the MTSC campus today. As we live each day, we are aware of it all around us. The completion of the new administration building is a triumph felt by perhaps every individual on campus. The facilities offered by the Dramatic Arts Building have opened up endless opportunities in the fields of theatre and speech. Already construction is underway for new dormitories . . . progress never stops. No longer is expansion merely a dream of the future, but rather our hopes have been realized, new doors are opened to us each day, recognition is gained, and a new sense of love and respect is felt by everyone who is a part of this institution.

But progress will not cease now. With the gaining of university status and the constantly increasing enrollment, higher standards are demanded, further forward movement is evoked and we will continue to grow and flourish . . . the product of time and ambition and dedication.

MTSC

its future

Much of the impetus for growth in the future will come from the attainment of university status by our Alma Mater. For the moment, the changeover from "college" to "university" will be somewhat equivalent to the change of labels on a bottle. However, under the new aegis stern challenges will generate curricular changes and possibly even new objectives. There are evidences that this has already begun. On the drawing board are plans for a new science building and apartments for married students. In President Cope's office is the "master dream plan" which projects ever-expanding facilities on the campus that we love. But brick and mortar do not an Alma Mater make. However much that it changes physically during those years ahead, it will still remain OUR institution. At convocation time we took much of it away. But we also left a part of ourselves.

BOOK

As we slowly venture through the pages of time, we realize that we must soon leave behind us the memories we have gathered here . . . and yes, the dreams we know must be put aside for more tangible things . . . but we'll always remember the unique magic spirit which somehow prevails here . . . everywhere . . . and lives and grows in the heart of every student.

Together we are the living MTSC . . . Student Life . . . the very soul and essence of our institutional being. Individualism . . . personalism . . . democracy . . . These are the things we strive for as we share and work and grow together as one.

STUDENT LIFE

Our Year at MTSC . . .

Students enjoy a lazy stroll to class in the warm sunshine.

The thrill of the wonders of winter . . . Snow, a blanket of white covering a beautiful campus.

This is what the visitor sees first when he enters our campus.
Look closely . . . there'll be some changes made, come July 1st.

Research and study . . . a vital part of college life.

Academic problems seem to disappear in the "T" Room . . . especially for Sandy Ratchford and Mike Kempf.

There's nothing quite like the opening of a new college year. Old friends are back, new ones are on the threshold, and there are hundreds of faces to fit into the mosaic during the months ahead. There is the anticipation of new classes, new professors, and the wonderful world of change about our campus. Students experience mixed emotions of joy, and yet, some regret that this is a new year and the old one has passed . . . and that our days of college life are numbered.

A new concoction in the science lab.

Students Take Advantage of Summer Months . . .

Carol Sledge casts a cautious eye at the Astronaut manikin.

Summer school is a pint-size version of the regular college year. The frills, the hullabaloos, the ball games, the fun nights, and most of the rest are absent. But summer school has its moments. The famed Aerospace Workshop zooms in during this time, and the prestigious Science-Mathematics Institute claims the whole Southland for its patronage. And when and where may watermelon be more properly eaten than during the summer and on our campus?

Candle light and cookies at the President's Reception soon after summer school had ended.

Nothing is more refreshing than a cold slice of watermelon on a hot summer day.

President Quill E. Cope greets freshman Diana Davis at the President's Reception.

Fall registration . . . a frustrating procedure.

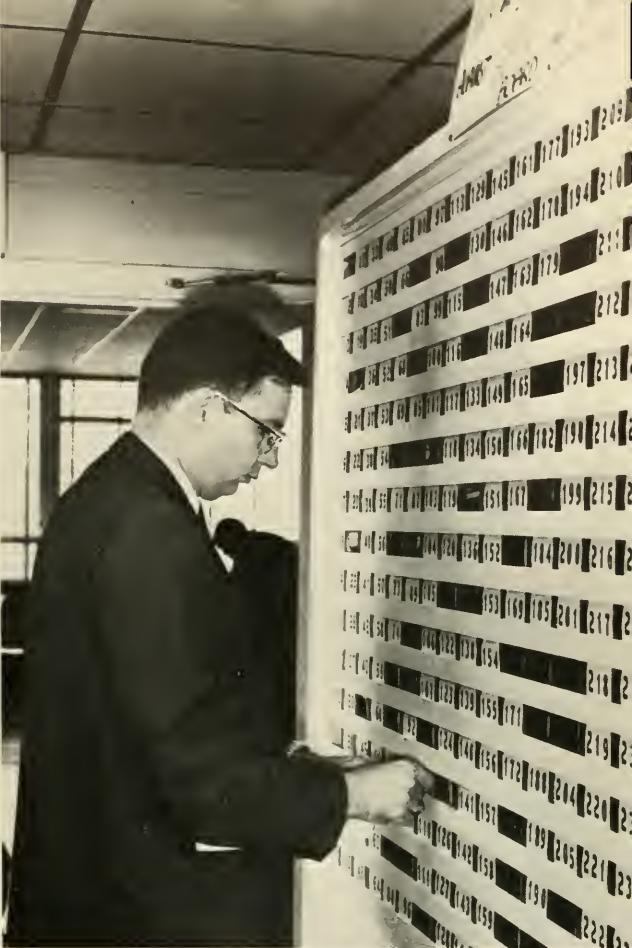

Lana Plum smiles the fresh new smile of enthusiasm . . . before classes begin.

After the rush of registration, co-eds get a chance to become better acquainted.

Dean Weems adds to the agony of registration . . . another class closed!

Fall Semester Brings Hectic Days of Registration . . .

Those first few days are ones that try men's souls . . . particularly student's! We refer, of course, to registration. Someone has said that if National Ulcer Week is ever proclaimed it will have its origin in those first hectic days of "bedding-down." Students spend hours studying the spectacular Closed Section Board. Others are on safaris in search of major professors. Still others queue up to give that "last full measure of devotion" at the paymaster's counter. But frustrations wane as this week nears its end. The therapy of the President's Reception and the togetherness that follows brings order and ties up the frayed ends.

Frosh Emerge Collegiate . . .

Boy meets girl . . . at the Freshman Mixer.

"I've worn this 'T' Cap long enough . . . away with it."

Freshman majorette Frankie Baskin anticipates marching and twirling with the Band of Blue.

The Butch Baker Trio entertains at the fall hootenanny.

Freshman Orientation Week, it is called. It's a big order . . . like eating a gallon of ice cream at one sitting. Some say it's to fight the trauma of homesickness. But whatever its purpose, the starry-eyed first-timers meet their Alma Mater in a king-size flourish. There are beanies, tests, mixers, registration for the laggards, ID pictures, hootenannies, and the reception. And perhaps, during all of these mental and physical gymnastics, one may catch an exploratory smile from the other sex. Maybe college will not be so bad after all!

Confronted with emptiness . . . again.

Freshman girls lose that homesick feeling when the phones start ringing.

Micky Flanagan enjoys a game of billiards . . . a popular passtime.

College Life Embraces Pleasures and Boredom . . .

The student becomes acquainted with the advantages of library study facilities.

College life, as did Cleopatra, has infinite variety. There are those who find the library a most fascinating haven, principally for study. Then there are those who have divined the mysteries of the telephone and chase boredom in a manner far removed from the textbook. And too, there are others who sag under the academic burdens and do what comes naturally. College life embraces all of the tribulations that would beset a small city, which we collectively are. College life brings joys and distinctions, as well. Again, similar to Cleopatra, college life is ageless. It has its Antony of failure and its Caesar of victory.

Mental exhaustion brings repose.

Guard marches while the Band of Blue plays on.

Band members in pyramid formation at an early fall picnic.

When College Life Becomes

College is preparation for life and to this we will subscribe. Lectures, recitations, labors in the library, examinations, dissecting the frog, writing the theme, and solving the theorem are part of those things comprising the essence of education. But very important are those easily digested palatable ingredients that also prepare us uniquely for this life ahead. These are the frosting on the cake, the nuts in the cookie, the meringue on the custard. The anticipation of Saturday's game . . . the game itself . . . the sound of music . . . and those other moments when college life becomes lighthearted, complete the image of college and its overriding purpose.

The Saturday afternoon curriculum . . . in action.

Cheerleaders Sandra Wynne and Linda Redmon glow with excitement as football season begins.

Lighthearted . .

The Band of Blue's tallest and smallest .

Homecoming Festivities Bring Many Memories . . .

Ebeneezer Scrooge had a vision of things to come. Hopefully, of a different cut than Scrooge, we watch the grads return and again trod the paths that we now trod. It was only yesterday, or perhaps the day before, that they too fashioned the floats, embellished the dormitory facades, piled high the bonfire rubble, danced the light fantastic . . . and watched other grads return. And as the years pass, we too will recall with delight the homecoming festivities all presented under the theme of "fun, fall and football" . . . that Saturday morning parade . . . the rain that almost ruined the day . . . but finally, the sun emerged from the clouds to kiss the crown that was placed atop Queen Sandra's coiffure . . . No, we will not forget. Homecoming, to us, is a vision of things to come and a memory of things in the past. Too, it strengthens our devotion to Middle Tennessee State College PRESENT and deepens our respect for Middle Tennessee State College PAST.

The Homecoming bon-fire silhouettes Queen Sandra Wynne.

The "Thirsty Thirteen" add plenty of noise to the Homecoming pep rally.

Cleverness and beauty are characteristics of the Homecoming parade floats.

President Cope presents a Homecoming bouquet to Queen Sandra Wynne escorted by Jerry Owens.

Fran Davidson, Elinor Brandon, and Ann Sanders begin work on the Junior Class float.

Miss Vets Club contestants pose with the winner, Gail Weaver...

Veterans' Club Commander, Bob Bodine, crowns Queen Gail Weaver.

A lovely trio of winning beauty . . . Suanna Guess, Gail Weaver and Hazel McKay.

Freshman Eva Evers takes time to look over the Democratic possibilities.

Election Fever Runs High at MTSC . . .

This was the year of the national elections and our campus was far from being untouched. The fervor felt for Goldwater and Johnson was reflected in the placards appearing suddenly on the campus bulletin boards and other space ordinarily used for other purposes. The assets claimed for each of the two major candidates became interloping topics in some classes, for the professors chose sides, too. The impetus from television, radio, newspaper, magazines, and the sound tracks brought the campaign to Middle Tennessee State College.

Then there was the time that the Band of Blue, the Sam Davis Drill Team, and an army of partisans greeted LBJ at the Nashville Airport and escorted him to the speaker's platform at the War Memorial Building, just a hop and skip from the Capitol. There were those who touched the President's hand and kept the memory alive by refusing to wash the spot away until days afterwards. The College Young Democrats were there en masse.

Almost lost in the things national was the sparkling Veteran's Club Talent Night capped by the beauty contest. Lovely Freshman Gail Weaver received the crown and sceptre before a pleased and applauding audience.

Mrs. Ann Wagner, daughter of former Governor Buford Ellington, and her husband Tim entertain Linda Byrd Johnson during her visit to Nashville.

Top-Notch Entertainment Takes Campus . . .

This was also the year of musicians. They came to our campus in teams of threes and fours and beat out the nondescript music typical of our times. On they came singing of unrequited love and of the irrelevant minutiae of U.S.A., sixty-four. Some had hair-cuts, more did not. The ballads were the same, only the faces and the hair-do's changed. Who will forget the Brandywine Singers, the Johnny Rivers Special, Chad and Jeremy, Ronnie and the Daytonas, and the others?

The Brandywine Singers drolled out the love ballads . . .

. . . and added humor to popular folk songs.

After the show, Johnny Rivers is swamped by fans.

Chad, resembling a Beatle, signs autographs for frantic fans.

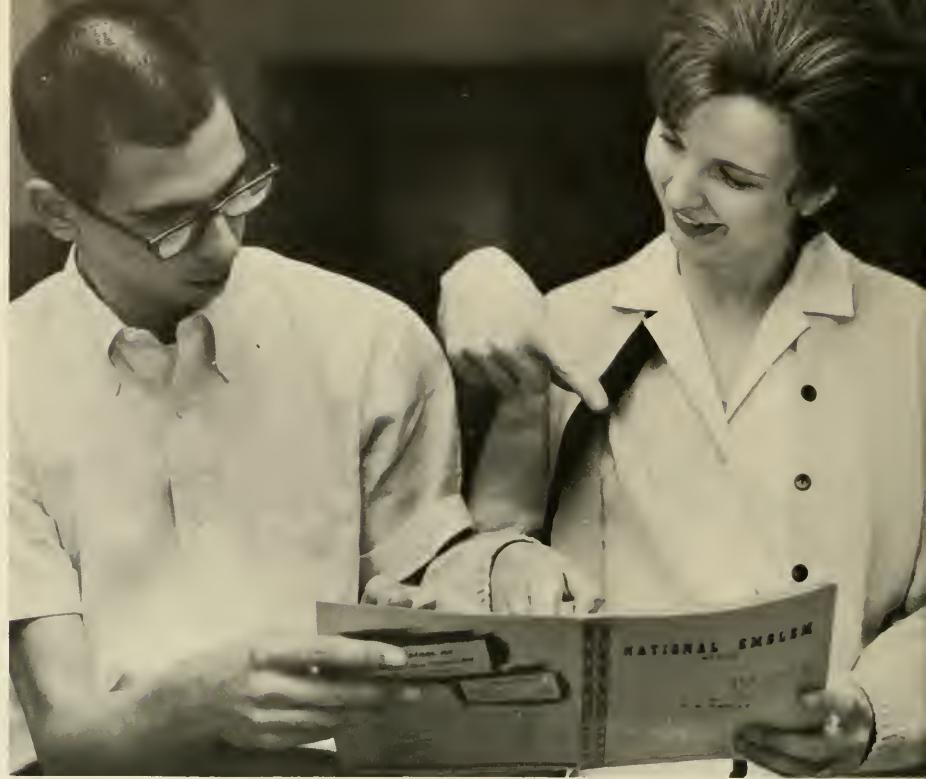

The Daytonas rocked the rafters with entertainment.

Co-eds don outrageous ensembles for the Gruesome Twosome Contest.

"It must be trying to tell us something."

Fighting Damsels to Dainty Dancers . . .

The struggle against ennui sometimes does strange things to a campus. Even within the bounds of restrictions, as restrictions go, some bizarre events evolve. Take for example the Gruesome Twosome contest staged at Halloween time. No one but a temporary fugitive from the classroom could dream such dreams. Of course, the annual Powder Puff football game was more of a dainty affair at which time the campus damsels pre-empted the Saturday heroes. The most important lesson learned from this is that it is well that, normally, there are sports assigned to each sex.

Then there is the "World of Dance" and we realize that, in addition to the trees and the flowers, there are other campus decorations.

The weaker sex plays rough, tough football!

The colorful costumes helped to make the "World of Dance" a howling success.

Modern dance groups clothed in leotards move in rhythmic patterns to the beat of a drum.

Boots Randolph exchanges his sax for a hat and continues to entertain.

"Mr. Sax" clowns during the performance.

Chet Atkins "picks to perfection."

Cramer Show, Rice Bowl Storming Success . . .

Oh yes, Chet Atkins and his entourage barreled onto the campus during this year that was. It was foot-stomping music all of the way. He had taken other campuses by storm. Our college was no exception. Boots Randolph, also entertainer deluxe, carried the huge enthusiastic audience with him, and it was a most memorable evening. The Associated Student Body, the student pulse-feeler, scored again.

Too, and not to be forgotten, was the first annual Grantland Rice Bowl just a ways down the calendar. One bright spot, during the rainy day, besides the Raider victory, was Queen Sandra Rouse and her court.

Rice Bowl Queen Sandra Rouse and her court Barbara Moore, Dot Pearcy, and Sara Edwards.

Floyd Cramer, Chet Atkins, and Boots Randolph surround Rice Bowl Queen Sandra Rouse.

ASB President Jerry Owens congratulates Chet Atkins for a successful show.

Memory must never eschew those glorious moments of college life. That old happy gang . . . the tense moment before victory . . . these are the times which give us a sense of spirit. The spirit to live, to shout, to cry, and to give. And Santa brought the spirit of Christmas to our campus. That Christmas party manned by the Circle K Club. President and Mrs. Cope were there with a host of happy children. This will bear reliving during the years ahead.

Cheerleaders spark the spirit of the crowd . . .

A tense moment for the team.

"Get that ball" . . . The crowd goes wild!

An excited tot accepts Santa's gift at the Circle K Christmas Party.

Circle K's Santa Eddie Hodges talks to President and Mrs. Cope.

MTSC'S Spirit . . .

A splashing good time was had by all at the Triton's Splash Party.

It's difficult to eat a banana under water.

Splashing around in the pool with other splashes at that particular time has now been forgotten. But take a furtive peek at the graphic proof twenty years from this moment and you will know what the affluent life has done for and to you.

And who was it that ran against you in that Senior Superlative Contest. Oh yes, how could you ever forget. Well anyway, it's the winners that count . . . But wait, can you remember who won besides you?

"Decisions, Decisions!"

Senior Superlatives Elected . . .

"Maybe I should have voted for . . ."

Once each year the student frustrations and inventiveness are brought out in the open in the form of Stunt Night. It provides outlets for some who have always harbored the desire to play-act, but to this point have never been tapped for the foot-lights. Involving many students it invokes creativity beyond the wildest dreams, and more often than not, it portrays some of the lesser known facets of college life. This annual event is sponsored by the Biology Club.

Stunt Night Portrays Bunnies and Beatniks . . .

MTSC's version of "T" Room beatniks.

A barefoot beatnik reads modern poetry . . .

Sandra Howse and Allen Tolbert . . . The bunny and the playboy.

Embarrassing moments for such a lovely lady . . .

The moods are many as Stunt Night progresses.

Miss Midlander Pageant . . .

The Noon Show orchestra entertains the contestants at WSM-TV Station.

Awaiting the final decision seemed like an eternity.

For the first time, campus beauties were presented in swim wear.

Seven of the top ten await the dreaded question and answer session.

This year the Miss Midlander Contest went solo for the first time. In the past, this contest designed to select a campus lovely to represent the yearbook, was a part of the Biology Stunt Night. Due to show time limitations, the yearbook staff laid its plans for a separate program and, among other things, re-named it the Miss Midlander Pageant.

The clarion call for contestants was answered by twenty-three clubs and organizations. Then there were the preliminaries . . . the picture-taking . . . the contestants' display of the identifying corsages beginning one week prior to the pageant . . . and the memorable trek to WSM-TV in Nashville.

Lucia Cordell models a pert spring dress and a charming smile.

"Miss Congeniality," Gracy Aiken, receives a kiss from Dave Overton.

. . . And the long awaited moment, Mandy Gentry is crowned Miss Midlander.

A happy Mandy received red roses from the yearbook editor.

Other contestants congratulate Mandy.

Mandy Gentry Receives Crown . . .

The evening of the Miss Midlander Beauty Pageant was heralded by an unleashing of the elements. A driving rain, lightning and thunder seemed destined to confine the evening to the master of ceremonies, the contestants, a disappointed editor and business manager, and 1044 empty seats. But the students came, and the show went on.

The inimitable Dave Overton was never better as master of ceremonies. And the contestants were never lovelier. First came the campus wear, then the swim suits, followed by evening wear. Interspersed among the events were several superb entertainment features. The audience was never so nice and one could say that, for all practical purposes, we had already donned the distinguished cloak of university.

But there must be a winner in events of this kind. She was a stunner . . . Mandy Gentry . . . and the Midlander was proud to claim her as its representative for 1965. There were strong competitors, of course, and all combined their talents, time, and beauty to give the evening, at least, a semblance of success.

Outside, the rain had ceased.

The winning five: Gracy Aiken, fourth place; Carol Lee Hoover, second place; Mandy Gentry, Miss Midlander; Judy Wilson, first place; Rita McWhorter, third place.

The old auditorium is renovated.

Early construction on the new Administration Building.

Workmen add the finishing touches.

A University In The Making . . .

And so it was established . . . finally . . . ultimately . . . we reached the status of UNIVERSITY becoming official July 1, 1965. To be called in the future Middle Tennessee State University . . . an institution of higher learning . . . one of which we may be proud. Not only will the name be changed, but the scenic campus has donned a new style. The modern style . . . the style of our times. A new Administration Building . . . a new Dramatic Arts Theatre . . . new dormitories . . . and further plans not yet revealed.

A messy job yields a beautiful lobby.

And finally, a new view from the sky.

BOOK

During our years at MTSC we encounter many different types of people and personalities each day. A few of these individuals invariably make a greater impression upon us than others, and it is they who are remembered by everyone . . . a great beauty, a shining personality, a brilliant scholar . . . to these rare individuals we give special recognition. Imagine the thrill of being crowned "Miss Midlander" with all the glory and acclaim which accompany it. The rewarding sensation which comes from seeing your own face in "Who's Who" and realizing that your efforts were worthwhile. The joy and pride of knowing success and receiving praise and recognition . . . these are moments to be experienced by only a selective few.

BOOK

The MTSC campus is literally whirling with a numerous variety of enriching and enjoyable extra-curricular activities. One important aspect of campus life is that of sports, the most popular ones being, of course, football and basketball. The realm of Fine Arts is becoming increasingly more important in the life of MTSC. Dramatic productions, art shows, concerts, recitals, and an endless number of other such timely events help to fulfill the cultural demands of the students on campus. Participation in these activities often involves time and hard work, but in the end, we are left with great rewards and many pleasant memories.

"Chief" Robertson and Jack Armstrong lead blocking as David Petty leaps for the score against Florence.

MTSC's Blue Raiders opened their '64 football season against Florence State with a 21 to 3 victory. The Raider's first touchdown came on a pass from quarterback Teddy Morris to right end Ray Neal. Larry Whaley carried the ball for a 54 yard gain setting up another touchdown pass from Morris to end Jerry Smith. The final score came with 9:58 remaining in the ball game as Dave Petty scored from the 2 yard line. "Chief" Robertson was outstanding on defense, and Jerry Broadbent led the Big Blue offensively.

At UTMB, Teddy Morris made the Martin defense hop with his well executed roll-out passes. Teddy rushed 103 yards in 13 carries and passed for 64 more yards. As the final seconds ticked away, the score remained deadlocked 0 to 0. Defensive standouts for the Blue Men were Jim Harvey, Jack Armstrong, Ron Camp, and Larry Dotson.

The Western Kentucky game was a big win for the Raiders who had instilled the "I" formation especially to cool the heels of their first OVC opponent. Larry Mathews did everything except carry the water bucket. Mathews set up the first touchdown at which time Morris scored from the 4 yard line. The second half was a defensive battle with Boots Donnelly, Bubba Randolph, and Jim Harvey each intercepting passes. Duane Brown booted a 23 yard field goal to put the icing on the cake and give the Blue Raiders a 9 to 0 victory.

The Eastern Kentucky game saw hard charging guard Keith Atchley "lower the boom" on the Maroon quarterback. Ron Camp scooped up the loose ball and ran two yards for the first TD. Louis Alford caught the ball in mid-air and raced for another MTSC touchdown in the third quarter. The final Raider touchdown was set up by Morris' dandy passing and a 7 yard run-pass option for a victorious score of 20 to 13. Ron Camp was the outstanding lineman against Eastern.

Halfback Bob Hlodan skirts around onrushing Austin Peay's defensive players.

When the Raiders tangled with Chattanooga, the Moccasons grabbed an early 7 to 0 lead. MTSC's first touchdown came in the second half as David Petty scored from 1 yard out. A pass from Teddy Morris to Jimbo Pearson accounted for the Raiders second TD, but the Moccasons won 19 to 14.

The Raiders came back from Chattanooga to take undefeated Morehead 13 to 0. The Blue Men stopped the Eagles on the one-yard line on the first series of downs, and David Petty was credited with both of MTSC's touchdowns—the first from one yard; the second, after three attempts, capping a 63 yard drive. This victory placed the Blue Raiders in the lead for the OVC Conference Championship.

The Blue Raiders encountered a scoreless first half against the Austin Peay Governors. The Raiders finally got on the scoreboard with a touchdown in the third quarter. In the final five minutes, Austin Peay scored but failed on a two-point conversion. With 57 seconds left the Governors kicked a field goal to defeat the Raiders 9 to 7.

The first half of the Raider Homecoming game was a defensive battle. The Raiders came back in the third quarter with 14 quick points and shook off a 94 yard kickoff return. A 91 yard run from the line of scrimmage gave the Raiders a 14 to 12 victory and thrilled a rain-drenched Homecoming crowd.

The battle between MTSC and East Tennessee was the do-or-die game for the Raiders in order to stay in contention for the OVC crown. The Buccaneers started off strong by marching to the Blue Men's 1 foot line. At this time the big forward wall rose up and caused the Bucs to fumble with Jack Armstrong in possession of the pigskin. That was the straw that broke the camel's back as the Raiders left the gridiron with a 14 to 9 victory.

The Tennessee Tech game was a Raider victory from start to finish with the OVC championship and Grantland Rice Bowl bid lying in balance. The big Blue offense left the field allowing Tech minus 5 yards in rushing. Speedy halfback Bob Hlodan took a Morris pitch-out and raced 54 yards untouched. With 20 seconds remaining on the clock before halftime, the "Thunderbolt" threw a touchdown pass to freshman Herbert Owensby which covered 66 yards. After halftime, Coach Murphy's force tallied 10 more points for a 24 to 0 victory and the OVC Championship.

PEARSON NAMED LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN

It takes more than a football jersey to make an All-American, and Jimbo has all the qualifications.

"Well, I'll be darned, that's the best we've ever had." These were Coach Bubber Murphy's sentiments after half-back Jimbo Pearson caught 38 passes during regular season play for which he was named Little All-American by the Associated Press.

The 5'10", 170 lb. senior from Springfield completed four years of football at MTSC and broke the all individual school pass receiving record. After being switched to offense mid-way in the season, Jimbo caught 25 passes in the last 3 football games. When Jimbo broke the OVC pass receiving record, he had well earned the title of Little All-American.

The little All-American put a lot of action and a lot of thought into MTSC's football contests.

The water boy is the joke of the football team, but not so with the managers. Carrying the water pail, keeping the records, and encouraging the boys is important business to the team managers.

Football team managers for the '64 season were: Marvin Martin, Jon Steed, Roger Goosetree, and Jim Locke.

GRANTLAND RICE

MTSC completed a successful 1964 football season with a 20-0 victory over Muskingum in the first Grantland Rice Bowl game sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Murfreesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce. A crowd of 4,000 watched two mud-soaked football teams battle out four quarters of play with the majority of the action in the fourth quarter. Preceeding the first touchdown by Teddy Morris, Bob Hlodan carried the ball for 56 yards in 12 plays. Duane

RAIDERS TAKE BOWL GAME 20-0

Brown converted to make the score 7-0. The second TD was scored from a 5 yard run by Morris. With Muskingum on MTSC's 1 yard line, the Muskie quarterback fumbled the pigskin, and it popped into the hands of Raider end Ray Neal. Neal ran 99 yards to score the last Raider TD of the season. Game standouts were Bob Hlodan who led all rushers with 110 yards in 19 carries and Bubba Randolph who was in on 17 tackles.

RAY NEAL
Raider Right End

The late Charles Ray Neal, Sophomore end from Lenoir City, was often referred to as "the boy who scored a 99 yard touchdown against Muskingum." The Blue Raider football team dedicates the first Grantland Rice Bowl Game to the memory of Ray Neal. And so, he shall be remembered by the MTSC student body, the faculty, and the football squad for his outstanding athletic accomplishments and his friendly smile that one graced our campus.

The Blue Raider 64-65 Basketball season was predicted to be one of the best, if not the best in the history of the school. Pre-conference polls showed the Raiders to be a strong contender for the OVC crown. U.T. Martin was the opponent for the season opener in which the "Men in Blue" fought an uphill battle to win in double overtime 94-98. Afterwards, the ball seemed to go flat and the hoop seemed to have a lid on it as the Raiders could manage only five more wins in the next 23 games. The title gained was a tie for sixth place in the OVC Conference. But the record doesn't tell everything . . . the defensive genius, guard Jack Sutter exhibited in harassing opponents into floor mistake after floor mistake . . . the rebounding and scoring of Mike Milholland against Austin Peay, 32 rebounds and 44 points . . . Billy Martin finishing the season as Raider top scorer with a 14.6 average after being switched from a guard position. Yes, after the record is long forgotten, the competitive spirit of these men will still be remembered.

TRACK

The 1965 Blue Raider Track Team, winner of the 1964 T.I.A.C. Championship, will be fighting hard to make a repeat performance this year. With only eight returning lettermen backed up by three transfer students, Coach Joe Black Hayes will field a young and inexperienced team. Of the eight returning lettermen, six hold school records. Maxie Boles . . . 330 Hurdles, Ron Ward . . . Broad Jump, Phil Dickens . . . Two Mile Run, Paul Anderson . . . Mile Run, and Brian Oldfield . . . Shot Put.

Oldfield, who was considered one of the top ten Freshmen shotputters in the nation last year, will be out to break all present OVC records in that department. Richard Roache, former track great, will assist Coach Hayes for the '65 season.

BASEBALL

The Raider Baseball Team under the guidance of Coach Ken Trickey and Assistant Dave Hall are in high hopes of topping last year's second-place finish in the Ohio Valley Conference. From all indications, the Raiders should be a strong contender for the OVC Championship . . . but first they must hurdle such teams as Austin Peay, Western Kentucky, and the Murray State Thoroughbreds who have been picked as the team to beat. Coach Trickey boasts several returning lettermen from last years team . . . Ken "Coon" Victory and Eddie Hobson . . . both made the OVC Glitter Team last year. The pitching staff, which has been weak in past years, will be boosted this year by Paul Smith, a hard throwing right-hander and Gregg Tweed, a left-hander from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. If fall practice is any indication of how the team will fare on the diamond this spring . . . the Blue Raiders should be tough, having already soundly beaten Tennessee Tech and other area teams.

Returning members of the 64-65 team are: Rick Davenport, Rod Miller, David Kirk, Ken Victory, Bill McKinley, Rich Howell, Eddie Hobson.

John Prevost and Bob Schull, two Florida products, are expected to lead Coach Bouldin's netmen to a victorious season. The Blue Raider tennis men will be meeting stubborn competition, but they are expected to have a tremendous season.

GOLF

The Blue Raider Golf Team, under the direction of Coach E. K. Patty, entered the 1965 season with a record of forty-two consecutive dual wins over the past eight years. The last time the Raiders lost a dual match was in 1956. MTSC has won the Ohio Valley Conference Crown for the past five years.

Striving for stiffer competition, the Raiders have added Vanderbilt, Austin Peay, DePauw, and Murray State to their already heavy schedule. They have also entered the Florida Invitational, Tennessee Intercollegiate, Southern Intercollegiate, Ohio Valley Conference, and National Collegiate Tournaments. Coach Patty anticipates another victorious season with the same squad returning from last year.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

This year has seen heavily contested battles waged between sixteen teams for possession of the Intramural Over-All Championship trophy. With football, basketball, and volleyball completed the race has narrowed down to a "nip and tuck" struggle between Circle K Club, The Insignificants, and The Gators.

The football season ended in a four-way tie for first place. After elimination matches were staged . . . the championship game saw The Gators pitted against Circle K Club. At half time the score was 7-0 in favor of Circle K, but the Gator offense soon started to jell and tied the score at 7 all. With 6 seconds left in the game, the Circle K Club led 13-7. On a long pass from Harold Cook to Bob Hardison, Gator tailback Dave Hall dropped back and rifled a bomb into the end zone to tie the score 13-13. The extra point attempt gave the Gators the winning score 14-13.

Volley ball saw The Insignificants and Circle K Club brush aside the opposition to meet in a play-off for the championship. The Insignificants came out the victor in a best two out of three match.

In basketball it was much the same story . . . The Campus Crips, The Insignificants, and The Pack Rats were battling it out for the championship with Ed Coates and the Insignificants winning a 90-52 victory over the College Crips for the trophy.

Track, Softball, and Tennis are yet to be played . . . and the Over-All Championship trophy is still up for grabs. But after competition is over . . . the trophy will be at rest until another year of Intramural Sports begins.

Volleyball saw unusual fast action. Again, the trophy went to the Insignificants.

POWDER PUFF BOWL GAME

The annual fall Powder Puff football game turned MTSC's lovely damsels into fighting demons. Wearing regular football jerseys and playing by the normal field rules, the "Ruff Tuff Cream Puffs" and the "Tiny But Tuffs" fought a hard-nosed battle all the way. The game began as harmless Flag Football, but as the clock ticked on, the flag game turned into ferocious tackle football. Even referee LaLance was tackled during one play.

Halftime entertainment was provided by the cheerleaders who staged their own game of football. Oh yes, these feminine cheerleaders were members of the male sex of our college students. The Cream Puffs walked off the field with a victory . . . and a hilarious time was had by all.

A cheerleader's hair must always be in place!

. . . And, the tension mounts!

Pat Kyle "Whoops" it up at a pep rally. MTSC school spirit really paid off in capturing the OVC championship and the first Rice Bowl game.

FINE ARTS

Tommy Horne and Sharon Potter realize their love for each other in this scene taken from "Finian's Rainbow."

Phillip Jones and Linda Wood are seen as the children of Rainbow Valley in "Finian's Rainbow."

Richard Boutwell as John Worthing, Carolyn Anderson as Lady Bracknell, and Rebecca Salisbury as Gwendolen Fairfax reach an impasse in the highly amusing Oscar Wilde play "The importance of Being Earnest."

BUCHANAN PLAYERS

They are often referred to as those "Great Pretenders," but are more popularly known as the Buchanan Players. These are the students, the instructors, the stage hands who devote their time and creativity to that hour upon the stage . . . that third curtain call . . . and that feeling of a job well done, a play well performed and an audience well pleased.

Buchanan Players rehearse diligently for weeks prior to a performance, such as this rehearsal scene of "Finian's Rainbow."

It's serious work when the make-up goes on. Pat Robertson adds the finishing touches to Linda Wood's coiffure before a Buchanan Players' performance in the arena theater.

CHORUS

Under the direction of Mr. Neil Wright, the College Chorus is another one of the talented musical units on the campus. Its tours of high schools throughout the mid-state area are valuable media for recruiting. In addition, it provides opportunities for the general public to appreciate the quality of instruction rendered by the college. Its members are chosen from try-out only. In addition to the tours, the Chorus presents outstanding fall and spring concerts. In March the Chorus, in collaboration with the Band of Blue, presented a concert in the War Memorial Auditorium in Nashville. This program, open to the public, (alumni, elementary and high school students, and friends of the college) drew a large, enthusiastic audience.

The Middle Tennessee State College Chorus.

Personnel Includes: Frances Mitchell and Linda Shelton, sopranos; Ann Sanders and Sarah Williams, contraltos; Lynn McGill, Monty Thomas, and Tom Horne, tenors; Bill Coward, baritone; and Tom Cole and Allen Smith, basses. The ensemble is under the direction of Margaret Wright of the College music faculty.

The Middle Tennessee State College Sacred Harp Singers were organized at the college in the summer of 1947 and are composed of eleven singers. The group sings a cappella, seated around a table, in Sixteenth Century madrigal style. The repertoire consists of early English madrigals and folk songs, Sacred Harp hymns and white spirituals, and Southern folk songs and ballads. The group is well known throughout the Southern States for its numerous concert appearances and broadcast programs. The tour this year will include concerts at Overton High School and East High School in Nashville; Chattanooga City and Redbank High Schools in Chattanooga; the High School in Thomaston, Georgia and in Griffin, Georgia; and a program for the Tennessee Association of College Registrars in Nashville as well as several appearances in St. Petersburg at the National Folk Festival.

SACRED HARP SINGERS

ORCHESTRA

The Middle Tennessee State College Orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Earl Hinton, continued again this season to present fine artistic performances. The group is composed of both college students, faculty members, and community musicians. The outstanding quality of its fall concerts and its magnificent contributions to the traditional Christmas program are tributes to the leadership of Mr. Hinton who also administers the famed "Music Time."

The orchestra is another activity lending the cultural atmosphere to the campus. It also assists in advertising quality training experiences to the surrounding community.

The MTSC Orchestra . . . ready to play.

Ray and Jean Bills, MTSC Music instructors, are also active in orchestra productions.

MODERN ART

Modern Art . . . a phase of our time . . . a part of our institution. Art is becoming an important part of our every day lives; it is making itself known on the MTSC campus. Sculpture, oil painting, ceramics, and architecture are academically introduced to the college student. The hidden talents of a young artist are brought forth through the efforts of MTSC's experienced staff of art instructors and advisors. The beauty of a hand-made ring, the forcefullness of the new administration building, or the delicate touch of an artist . . . these are the dignities, the specialties of the art which has recently become a part of MTSC.

James H. Wright from Carbondale, Illinois had his "Tea Bell" on display in the fine arts gallery when the Mid-South Ceramic and Craft Exhibition opened.

The beauty of modern architecture captured by the art of photography.

James Sockwell's prize winning ceramic forms won him a $110 gift prize during an MTSC showing.

Punch Ladle and Salad Thongs forged from silver make an interesting display.

Brent Kington's ring was just one of many beautiful pieces on display at the Mid-South Ceramic and Craft Exhibition. The ring features unusual design and a beautifully cut amethyst.

Special and successful efforts have been made to increase the student interest in MTSC's works of art. The art gallery housed in the Fine Arts Building provides a restful place for students to study and enjoy prize winning paintings, ceramics, and sculpture works.

The Mid-South Ceramic and Crafts exhibition of last October was a special feature presented by the MTSC Art Department. Artists living in Tennessee and surrounding states were invited to participate. The judge for the highly outstanding exhibition was Mr. Henry Lin, Professor of Ceramics from Ohio University.

Mr. Joseph Orze, head of the Art Department, instructs a group of students in the "art" of sculpture. Mr. Orze played host to T.V. art lovers for thirteen weeks on WDCN, Nashville's educational television station.

1965 MIDLANDER

A college year is a conglomerate of things that are never quite re-captured save through the pages of the yearbook. Even so, the zing is missing, and during those post college years, the imagination will, of necessity, need to run rampant to recapture a little of the much that we lived during that year. Since we will have little time to imagine then, the world being what it is and competing for our thoughts, the yearbook at least, provides a residue. Between those pages lie the secrets that you shared . . . the friends that you knew . . . the life that you loved. And so, it is through sincere thoughts and hard work that we bring this Midlander to you. The record of your 1964-65 college year at MTSC . . . a treasure to behold.

Bonnie seems excited as the final pages near completion, but Danny looks doubtful.

SIDELINES

In 1964-65 the Sidelines staff not only published news of another year of progress at Middle Tennessee State College, but joined in the move toward progress by changing from a biweekly to a weekly publication. The idea was initiated by the staff and ASB officials during the spring of the previous year, and looking back one year later, we can see that the additional effort and work paid off.

Students could be found looking for the Sidelines to appear each Tuesday with more up-to-date news than the staff had been able to provide previously. The six-page edition boasted new columns of student interest such as "All That Jazz" and "On and Off Campus", student opinion polls, and extended features on homecoming, spring, and an April Fool's issue.

BETTY MOODY
Business Manager

With the coming of spring semester, a change of editors and staff reorganization took place. Jane Frances and Jerre Don Hookey had been co-editors in the fall, but they turned the job over to Ann Norman. Close to the time of the announcement of university status, the Sidelines moved into its own office in the new administration building and spent the next few months in an attempt to decorate between deadlines.

No doubt, this year was one of the most changing ones ever for the newspaper at MTSC, and only due to the responsibility undertaken by its supporters could the changes have resulted in success.

Editor Ann Norman discusses specific plans for the Sports column with Butch Rutherford and Bob Barnes.

After marching season, the band begins its concert season. They present a series of concerts while on tour each year, and also present an annual spring concert on campus. This year, the band was warmly received at a special concert for MTSC alumni in Nashville.

PHI KAPPA DELTA

LAMAR HUTCHERSON
President

The 1964-65 Middle Tennessee State College forensic season was one of the most successful in recent years both in terms of tournaments and honors won and quantity of participation. A total of eighteen students represented MTSC in intercollegiate competition. Nine students participated in enough activities to be eligible for membership in Pi Kappa Delta Honorary Fraternity. This number constitutes the largest pledge group in recent MTSC history. In two tournaments our teams went undefeated on the negative side of the proposition. At Western Kentucky our affirmative was undefeated in regular competition, but lost a split decision in the televised final. The squad won a total of seven trophies and twelve certificates. The squad placed first at the Western Kentucky, Carson-Newman, Tennessee Wesleyan Tournament, second at the MTSC Novice Tournament, and third at the Birmingham Invitational Tournament. During the year, MTSC debate teams led by Mr. James Skaine competed against colleges from eleven states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Ohio, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

President

MIKE ROTHMAN

BETTY JANE GRAHAM

At the close of the last school year, The Associated Student Body found that their predecessors had left them with a $3,000 debt to repay. Under the guidance of the ASB President Jerry Owens the student government has paid their debt, reestablished their funds, and again recaptured the due respect of the students and the faculty for their outstanding job. The ASB brought entertainment deluxe to our campus this year. The Johnny Rivers Special,

The Brandy Wine Singers, Floyd Cramer, Boots Randolph, and Chet Atkins were enthusiastically received by the students last fall. Plans for spring specials include the Four Freshmen and the Buddy Morrow Orchestra. The ASB strives to please the students, and for another year, they have successfully completed their job . . . they have truly supported their motto . . . "Always See Beyond the Beginning."

Proposals and works of the Senate, led by Female Vice-President Betty Jane Graham, were in keeping with the growth and progress of our institution as it donned the title of University. One of the many popular projects of the Senate was the ASB Travel Board which is currently located in the Student Union and enables students to find transportation faster and easier.

PRE-LAW CLUB

The Pre-Law club was organized for the purpose of fostering interest among students in a legal career. The activities of the organization also appeal to students regardless of their fields of study in that it acquaints them with their responsibilities to their government. It appeals especially to the aspiring legal student by providing speakers from law schools, from the ranks of those already in the profession, and from city government administrations. The Pre-Law Society may be regarded as a reflection of the ever-widening circle of training provided by the college. Many former Pre-Law Club members are now practicing attorneys.

The expansion of 4-H Club work is also a principal objective. In addition to the clubs regular meetings, a Christmas party was held.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS CLUB

Activities for the Young Republican's Club ran along much of the same line as their opposing party's club activities. These amateur politicians stayed busy during the November Elections. Handbills, rallies, speeches, . . . yes, the Republicans did not go unheard, and "in their hearts, they knew they were right." And so, the GOP's and Goldwater faced defeat, but the members survived, and they'll be back fighting in '68.

THE AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS

Organized in 1947, the American Guild of Organists was one of the first student groups of this type in the United States. Its purpose is that of advancing the cause of worthy church music. Among its many activities for 1964-65 are included the daily broadcast of carols over the campus public address system during the Christmas season and providing cafeteria music during the same festive period. Also, the Guild attended the organ recital of Robert Baker at the First Presbyterian Church in Nashville, in addition to the AGO Student Recital at George Peabody College. In March it sponsored the Nashville AGO Chapter meeting on the MTSC campus.

Shortly after its organization, it fostered the annual Farmer's Frolic which is the only square dance promoted as a part of Campus Fun Night. Its entries in the Homecoming float contests have been most successful. The club has placed first, second, and fourth in the annual event. The Block and Bridle organization boasts one accomplishment above all of the rest as highlighting the six years of its existence. This was the lead taken by the club in organizing the Intercollegiate Cattle Judging Conference. In addition to MTSC, five other colleges are members of the conference.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club was organized in 1935 under the direction of Mr. O. L. Freeman. During World War II the club was disbanded due to the paucity of male students. Other sponsors through the years have been Mr. Ed Voorhies, Mr. Harold Jewell, Mr. Neil Ellis, Mr. Calvin Duggin, and Mr. Melvin Schneeberg.

A few of the projects completed by the club include field trips to industries in the immediate area, an annual banquet and picnic, supplying racks for the college newspaper, refinishing desks for the local Red Cross Chapter, and supplying first aid kits in the Industrial Arts Department.

The current sponsor is Mr. Harold Baldwin. Officers are Mickey George, President; David Kinney, Vice-President; Jim Leinert, Secretary; Frank Wells, Treasurer; Mike Crosswhite, Sergeant-at-Arms; Dewey Jackson, Corresponding Secretary; and Mike Rogers, Publicity Chairman.

The key phrase to such spirit is "Who's right? . . . Raiders!" The club provides moral support for all athletic teams, promotes a feeling of good sportsmanship throughout the entire student body, and promotes and protects the best interest of MTSC.

Besides promoting school spirit, the club has sold booster buttons, pennants, sponsored a decorated car in the Homecoming parade, and enters a young co-ed annually in the Miss Midlander Pageant. Club officers are: Dan Vroom, Pres.; Nancy Ogles, V. Pres.; Carol Sledge, Sec.; Donna Grammer, Treas.; and Lana Plum, Sgt.-at-Arms.

T CLUB

The T Club was organized in 1947 during Coach Charles Murphy's first year at Middle Tennessee State College. The club has fluctuated in membership from year to year but has maintained a prominent role in campus activities. Its principal purpose is to promote a closer association among the various athletic teams. Also, it has attempted, with much success, to bridge the gap between the athletic "colony" and the student body. The T Club has followed a policy of assisting other campus groups in various projects and has, on some occasions, provided financial help. Activities this year have included dances, a picnic, and an entry in the Miss Midlander Contest. Carol Sledge was the chosen representative, and she placed among the top ten.

Sponsor of the club is Mr. Bob Brooks, MTSC Sports Publicist. Officers are Jack Armstrong, Pres.; Mickey George, V. Pres.; Jack Haley, Sec.-Treas.; Jim Locke, ASB Rep.; and Ronnie Camp and Ray Kempf, Sgt.-at-Arms.

Crowning honors went to Gail Weaver, an MTSC Freshman. Becky Yeargan represented the Veterans' Club in the Annual Miss Midlander Pageant, and Gail was presented along with others as a special feature. The Veterans' Club donated money for the College Loan, Scholarship, and Development Foundation for the second straight year. The civic minded vets provide weekly entertainment for the hospitalized veterans of Murfreesboro. The clubs yearly activities also include a freshman information booth in the fall and the support of an eye glasses fund for needy students.

SPORTS CAR CLUB

The Sports Car Club was organized in 1963, principally through the efforts of Sid Franklin, a student with the built-in yen for the automobile with a difference. Its purpose was not to re-write highway speed records or to promote legislation to bank the campus curves. Rather it strives to promote safe and responsible driving by Middle Tennessee State College students. The club sponsored two rallies involving sports cars last year. In February of this college year another rally was sponsored. Approximately one hundred and fifty students participated. Over twenty persons from other states were included in this group. For the past two years the club has entered a decorated car in the Homecoming parade.

Sponsor of the club is Mr. Jesse Raine. Officers are Larry Taylor, President; John Bruno, Vice President; Shirley Givens, Secretary; Patricia A. Badacour, Secretary and ASB Representative.

Emphases here will be placed on graceful strokes characteristic to the swan-like aquatics.

GYMNASICS CLUB

One of the newer clubs on campus is the Gymnastics Club. Under the direction and instruction of Mr. Robert LaLance, the club has developed coordination and excellence on the flying rings, parallel bars, trampoline and the horse. The club entered its first collegiate competition at David Lipscomb College and came off with a fine showing . . . and high hopes for the future. Besides collegiate competition the club has performed during intermission at the basketball games . . . demonstrating poise, balance, form and long hours of practice.

The Athletic Association has succeeded in developing a competitive intramural program involving team games of volleyball, basketball, and softball. Teams selected in sports compete in intramural tourneys with other colleges. This year, the basketball team sponsored by the WAA was victorious in the Carson-Newman Tournament. WAA also sponsored an entry in the Miss Midlander Pageant. The entry was Carol Lee Hoover who was chosen second runner-up. Mrs. Barbara Martin is sponsor. Members of the Buchanan Players at MTSC receive excellent training in acting, stagecraft, makeup, lighting and directing. At the weekly meetings, members present programs ranging from one-act plays; scenes from three-act plays . . . to special programs. A student must work five hours in some phase of stage activity each semester in order to remain a member. The Buchanan Players presented "The Importance Of Being Earnest" in the drama Arena Theatre last fall. It was a three act English Satire written by Oscar Wilde. The players also presented "Finian's Rainbow" . . . a very colorful and entertaining musical during the early spring semester. It was the first play presented in the new auditorium and was an outstanding production. In the late spring, a German drama . . . "The Visit" was also presented in the new auditorium. ## DEBATE TEAM

A relatively young organization, the Debate Club was first organized in the spring of 1964. Its outgrowth was inspired by the activities of the Speech Department which has produced some of the most skillful debate teams found in the Southern region. The club centers its principal emphasis in keeping abreast of current political questions and in bringing guest lecturers to the campus. These lecturers discuss the important issues of our times. Considerable time has also been spent in analyzing the philosophies of the different political parties since 1964 was presidential election year. In November, the club conducted a faculty symposium pointed to the issues involved in the election.

The seventy-member club is sponsored by Mr. James Skaine. Officers are Ernest Cioffi, President; Perry Happel, Vice-President; and Barbara Crowell, Secretary-Treasurer.

COLLEGIATE COUNCIL FOR THE U.N.

The Collegiate Council for the U.N. has three major purposes. They are (1) to make the charter and the work of the United Nations known to college students; (2) to encourage students to reach conclusions about United States policies which both promote our national interest and make American leadership in the U.N. most effective; (3) to develop a student public which takes action upon its beliefs. Organized in the fall of 1963, the C.C.U.N. is one of the youngest clubs on the MTSC campus. Its meetings are devoted to discussions highlighting international issues. Frequently, offcampus speakers are invited to lend diversity to the programs. Faculty members are frequent guests.

FORREST RAIDERS

The Forrest Raiders are an outgrowth of the Old Nathan Bedford Forrest Club sponsored by the ROTC Department. The club as now constituted was conceived in response to the need for wider understanding of the manifold problems of the insurgency phenomenon and how to cope with these problems. To this end the club was formed from among Advanced ROTC Student volunteers during the fall semester 1963. The first commander was Paul D. Hutchins, now an Infantry Lieutenant in the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. During the 1963-64 school year the Raiders conducted extensive tactical field training, physical conditioning, hand-to-hand combat, mountaineering techniques, stream crossings, and the socio-economic political, psychological and military aspects of insurgency and counterinsurgency. The Raiders gave several public demonstrations of their assorted skills during the year including basketball games and assemblies.

BOOK

"Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and James A. Garfield on the other" may have been a desirable ultimate describing teacher and scholar relationship in other days. However, most of us know that there are more than one Mark Hopkins on our campus—but the logs are missing. As to the scholars, there are those who say that not all are Garfields. Yet, the blend of good teaching with the practice of challenging the mentally affluent and guiding those who find things more difficult, can provide a more salubrious atmosphere than that implied by the century-old maxim.

MTSC's continuing emphasis on scholarship and good performance is a reflection of the high calibre of instruction and administration at our college.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Quill E. Cope

President of M. T. S. C.

President Quill Evan Cope came to Middle Tennessee State College in 1957 after educational experiences in classroom teaching, the principalship, the county superintendency, university teaching, and as field representative for the United States Office of Education. Just prior to accepting the presidency of the college he was Tennessee Commissioner of Education. The growth of the college under his direction has been nothing short of phenomenal. Monuments to his astute administration are many. Visiting alumni are amazed at the transformation, both in the area of physical changes and in new curricular programs. During his second year the semester plan was adopted. Shortly thereafter the college was organized into schools for more efficiency in administration. As revenue became available new positions were created in order to increase the span of services. New dormitories, the dramatic arts building, the renovation of Old Main, and the construction of a magnificent new administration building are just a few of major campus face-lifting jobs attributed to his hand. Very important was his skillful leadership in the attainment of university status.

But brick and mortar, personnel details, revenue, and curricular improvements are only one facet of leading our institution into a greater MTSC. It is generally known over the campus that President is highly sensitive to the problems and needs of students. Enunciating this is his "open door" policy whereby students may present their problems unhurriedly in an atmosphere of friendliness and of personal interest. This has evoked deep respect for and devotion to the administrator in the front office.

In addition, the doors of the presidential residence are frequently opened to campus groups. Mrs. Cope, a gracious hostess, has the deep concern of her husband and for the advancement of Middle Tennessee State College. One of their two sons, John, is a sophomore at the University of Tennessee. The other, Jim, is a sophomore at Murfreesboro High School.

State Board of Education

Finney, Mr. Dale Glover, Mr. Ernest C. Ball. Absent when picture was made: Mrs. Sam Wilson, Mr. Thomas M. Divine, Mr. F. Thornton Strang.

Governor of Tennessee

FRANK G. CLEMENT

Some have compared Governor Frank Goad Clement with Andrew Johnson as being one of the truly great education governors of Tennessee. During his two executive terms he has repeatedly reaffirmed his strong belief in the values of education. These beliefs have been reflected in the priority that he has given to school bills. His position of sponsoring tax measures to meet the growing educational needs of Tennessee youth has not always been a popular one. Despite criticisms from many sources he has maintained his course and the schools of the state have been the beneficiaries.

Governor Clement has always had a kind place in his heart for Middle Tennessee State College. Much of the current growth of our institution can be attributed to his efforts.

DEANS

DEAN OF FACULTY

Dr. Howard Kirksey

Leadership in the development of the academic tenor of Middle Tennessee State College is the direct responsibility of Dean Kirksey. In the performance of his duties he enforces academic regulations, serves as chairman of the Curriculum Committee and Graduate Council, edits the College Catalog and other academic bulletins, prepares various institutional reports, plans the three annual convocations, and among many other things, approves any variations in institutional requirements.

In addition to these demanding campus duties he performs many area and regional services. In great demand as a speaker and as an educational consultant, he is one of the most highly respected educators in the South.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

Dr. Belt Keathley

Job had his problems. But Job, in all of his tribulations, did not have 4600 vibrant, imaginative college students outside his door of misery. But Dean Keathley has never pretended to be Job nor has he regarded the young people in his domain as an affliction. He has donned the "sackcloth and ashes" only on those rare occasions when thoughtless students have not divined the image of what constitutes sane and mature behavior. The campus atmosphere of decency and good conduct reflects the quality of Dean Keathley's leadership.

DEAN OF ADMISSIONS

Mr. John Weems

The security of academic records, registration procedures, collation of student accounting statistics, analyzing and evaluating incoming transcripts, and student interviews and conferences are all part of the tremendous task assigned to Dean Weems. In addition to these time-consuming duties he has time to avidly follow Raider athletics and is considered the campus' most ardent supporter of football, basketball, baseball, and track.

His studies in students grades and enrollments have produced vivid status pictures which have been invaluable in administrative planning.

DEAN OF WOMEN

Miss Martha Hampton

"Will Miss Hampton approve of this?" is a question asked frequently by students, as well as faculty. Some times, in its context, it's really not a question but a kind of "Duncan Hine's" probe for a seal of approval for decency and good taste. It is wholesome on a college campus to have someone at a crucial station who symbolizes, with understanding and firmness, what conduct should be among campus young ladies. To Miss Hampton is due much of the credit for the increasing high quality of behavior at MTSC.

DEANS

ASSOCIATE DEAN OF ADMISSIONS

Mr. N. C. Beasley

There was a time when Associate Dean Beasley was registrar and academic dean among other things. In 1962 his duties were reduced in line with Tennessee employment regulations relating to age. During his long years of service, beginning in 1927, he has probably become personally acquainted with more students and alumni than any other person on the present administrative staff and faculty. Some have appropriately referred to him as "Mr. MTSC."

Mr. Beasley now administers the growing Loan, Scholarship, and Development Foundation.

ASSISTANT DEAN OF MEN

Mr. James Cranford

During these days of domiciliary "no vacancies" the chant, "My Kingdom for a room," is a tantalizing theme close to the ear of Mr. Cranford. Among other assignments as Assistant Dean of Men he oversees men's housing and the problems and details peculiar to this facet of college life. It is also his duty to ameliorate certain domestic differences that occasionally arise among the men on our campus.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO PRESIDENT

Mr. Robert MacLean

Many years of experience as an officer in the Armed Services have uniquely prepared Mr. Robert MacLean for the exacting and diplomatically-oriented role of Administrative Assistant to the President. Details for new buildings, alleviating trouble spots, interviewing prospective clerical personnel, and standing in for the President on occasions represent just a few of his tasks.

BUSINESS MANAGER

Mr. Jimmy Jackson

Caretaker and guardian angel over the coffers of an institution of the size of MTSC is a gargantuan task. The minutiae of detail attending the recording and the security of incoming revenue and the supervision of expenditures require the ultimate in exactitude. If "an army travels on its stomach," a college, in its practical element, runs surely on the confidence in its revenue. Mr. Jackson, a Raider "Bachelor of Ugliness" in 1942, brings to his Alma Mater the leadership and dedication of his student days.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Robert Abernathy

Mrs. Alma Bass

Mr. James Booth

Mr. Bob Brooks

Mr. Robert Abernathy

Mr. Abernathy is often referred to as the "roving ambassador" for MTSC. He is in great demand as a speaker by student and civic groups.

Mrs. Alma Bass

The attractive Student Union Building hostess, Mrs. Bass, presides over the greatly diversified activities of the most widely-used building on the campus. Despite the "Barnum and Bailey" atmosphere induced by quick changes and arrangements she remains a most gracious and poised hostess.

Mr. J. O. Gist

As the assistant to the Business Manager, Mr. Gist is assigned to the processing of purchase orders, among other things. He is an alumnus of MTSC.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson

Often referred to as the supervisor of the "pool room," Mrs. Jackson is more accurately the efficient and beloved director of Student Union Building recreation. Her excellent rapport with students lies partially in the fact that she is a frequent participant in these activities.

Mr. J. O. Gist

Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson

Mr. Harold Jewell

Mrs. Barbara L. Martin

Mr. Jim Booth

Mr. Brooks is recognized as one of the most capable publicists in college athletics. He has been largely responsible for the wide coverage given our college sports.

Mr. Jim Booth

The campus Printing Shop, located in the basement of the new Administration Building, meets some eighty per cent of the college printing needs. From its two off-set presses comes a wide diversification of materials including schedules, forms for registration and business transactions, programs, and stationery.

Mr. Jim Booth, long-time printer, is director of the shop. Assisting him is one "printer's devil" and several MTSC students.

Mr. Harold Jewell

Mr. Jewell supervises the physical side of our small city of 700 acres and 4800 citizens. In pursuance of this he directs a labor force of 161 workers.

Mrs. Barbara L. Martin

Supervisor of the aches-and-pains department, Mrs. Martin, is a part-time instructor in HPER Department. The clinic is now in the basement of Reynolds Hall.

To whom do students turn when they need sympathy, understanding, or advice during their college days? Their House Mother, the person on campus who assumes the role of a mother-away-from-home. The House Mothers of both men's and women's dormitories at MTSC undertake the job of counseling and demanding good behavior of all students residing on campus, and their constant vigilance is very much appreciated by parents and students alike.

There are approximately 45 graduate students in the School of Social Science engaged in obtaining their M.A. degree.

There are organizations such as Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary fraternity, Collegiate Council for the United Nations, and the Pre-Law Society for students interested in extra-curricular activities.

Several of the courses offered by the Social Science Department are taught by professional social workers with training in a school of social work and with years of experience in the field. Others are taught by leading political figures including state government cabinet members as lecturers.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

The expanding Physical Science Department has added new faculty members as well as new courses to its program this year.

The Chemistry Department has added a new course, Chemical Instrumentation. Emphasis of the course will be placed on three major areas: 1) electronic circuits used in instrumentation, 2) geometrical and physical optics, 3) physico-chemical effects underlying the operation of transducer elements of the instruments. Funds for the purchase of the new instruments for this course were obtained by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Students from this department pursue study in professional schools. ## EDUCATION and Psychology and Library Science

For a great number of years the principal emphasis of our college was teacher-education. Preparing teachers for America's classroom is still a major task of our program. Some thirty-five states and a few foreign countries have teachers who claim MTSC as their Alma Mater. Courses in psychology, philosophy of education, the curriculum, audio-visual materials, guidance, educational sociology, school plant, administration, in addition to several devoted to methods, provide adequate training for solving the mysteries and meeting the frustrations of the new world of youth.

Dr. Sam Ingram leads a staff of highly trained instructors in this endeavor. Most of these have many years of instructional, administrative, and supervisory experiences at all levels of education.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Greeks have said that the ideal person is he who is both poet and athlete. Our students, similar to students in other institutions who are grappling with the elusive spectre of knowledge, may not all be too fancy with the rhyming. Nor may they stand tall and strong like the Saturday afternoon hero. Yet, brimful health, good health practices, and choices of recreation for the middle years and later, form a Siamese partnership with life's vocations.

The Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Department has many purposes. Aside from its emphasis on basic health education for all people, regardless of vocational plans, it provides training in health and physical education teaching, coaching, recreation, and in other related areas.

Dr. Francis Riel, epitomizing the departmental physical fitness theme, directs the activities of Health Physical Education, and Recreation.

Coach Harry Wagner shows a physical education student the proper way to swing the badminton racket.

MUSIC

The Music Department of this campus is always very much in the news. Located in the Fine Arts Building, it is a contributor to our cultural education.

Student operas are presented in conjunction with the Drama Club. The excellent performances of the Band of Blue are well received by those in attendance at football games, and, the pep band's presence at basketball games adds to the spirit of the M.T.S.C. fans.

Majors in this field may pursue careers as teachers, band directors, and other fields of music.

Mr. Milton Ryan, Instructor in the Music Department, plays a movement from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

LIBRARY

MISS CATHERINE CLARK
Division Head

The Andrew L. Todd Library is the location of this division's activities. This attractive building completed in 1958, makes for a setting of relaxed and comfortable studying. In addition to providing the school with adequate study accommodations, the library makes available a collection of 105,000 volumes and numerous bound periodicals. Last year there was a considerable increase in the number of microfilms, microcards, and filmstrips. An additional reading room, which seats one-hundred persons, was opened this year. The Curriculum Laboratory has also been expanded.

The division of Library Service, directed by Miss Leniel Edwards, offers eighteen semester hours of library training.

MILITARY

The ROTC Instructor Group consists of 10 commissioned officers and 10 noncommissioned officers. The Cadet Corps of 1324 is the largest in the history of the MTSC Military Science program. In addition to the formal training program which leads, for selected individuals, to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Regular Army or Army Reserve, the ROTC Department sponsors several subsidiary activities. These are the "Sam Davis Rifles" Drill team, the men's and women's rifle teams, the Forrest Raiders counter-insurgency training group, the Track and Sabre Club. The Annual Military Ball, sponsored by the Track and Sabre Club, is the highlight of the campus social season.

CAMPUS SCHOOL

The original purpose of the Campus School was to serve as a teaching laboratory for all aspiring young teachers. During the past few years secondary student teachers have been re-located in several Middle Tennessee high schools.

The Campus School now places considerable emphasis on certain experimental programs. Probably the most impressive at the present is the individualized reading plan whereby pupils are permitted a degree of self-selection in time and reading materials. This program is based on Science Research Associates' literature. Other curricular innovations include geometry and foreign languages instruction in the first three grades.

Director of the Campus School is Mr. Hilary Parker. A teacher, principal, and superintendent for many years prior to his present assignment, he blends the realism of experience with modern educational practices.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

When our institution opened its doors in 1911, the only degree offered was a Two-Year Diploma. In 1922 this was advanced to the Three-Year Diploma plan. The year 1925 marked the period of transition to a four-year teachers college offering the bachelor of science degree. In 1951, after eight years of state college status, the Graduate program was initiated. At first, only the Masters program in education was offered. Gradually other emphasis were added. Today, Master of Arts degrees are awarded in the areas of educational administration and supervision, guidance and counseling, curriculum and instruction, health, physical education, and recreation, mathematics, science (biology, chemistry, and natural sciences), and social science.

Dr. Howard Kirksey, Dean of Faculty, was largely responsible for initiating the program and is currently serving as Graduate Dean.

BOOK

Members of the Senior Class graduate to forever depart from our midst, while eager new freshmen come to take their places. And yet, with this rapid pace of enrollment growth and the constant pushing, driving force of which we are all a part, we have somehow managed to retain a large element of personalism and closeness within each individual class. Perhaps it is the open friendliness on campus or the courteous ways of students which tend to create this type of atmosphere but, nevertheless, this is the unique characteristic of every class at MTSC . . . the mutual respect among fellow classmates and the overall compatibility of class members with one another.

Regardless of the great diversity of interests seen here, each class has managed to retain its identity as a single unified faction of the whole.

"To things of sale a seller's praise belongs"

—Shakespeare

Business firms and those others who are confronted by student business managers usually take a dim view of yearbook advertising. It is regarded, with some justification, as advertising in the "frozen" state and that rarely does the reader go beyond the final division page.

The 1964-65 staff has taken steps to obviate this situation. This page and the one to the left, in full color, are examples of this effort. As the reader proceeds beyond this page, he will find other full color reproductions. In addition, duotones and spot color are used to embellish the layout. Occasionally, in the later advertising spaces, students and college staff members are depicted.

The staff hopes that particular notice will be taken of those advertisers who have contributed to the production of this book.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The story of Middle Tennessee State College is a story of progress. The sketch of the new Administration Building shown on this page and the one following is an enunciation of this fact. This structure now pre-empts the Main Building (now Old Main) in space for administrative staff and some classrooms. This new building situated on a commanding elevation and facing the entrance to the scenic south campus drive is a superb introduction to the physical Middle Tennessee State College.

MTSC HAS MANY FACES . . .

The contributions of Middle Tennessee State College to the medical profession are exceptional. Although the college does not offer the medical degree its sturdy bases in preparatory programs are recognized by all of the major medical training institutions. Scores of practitioners and research specialists attribute much of their success in subsequent training and in professional practice to the years spent at Middle Tennessee State College.

The color sketch shown below is an example of the expanding laboratories necessary for this profession to come to full flower.

The Way to Wisdom . . .

Where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding? . . . If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God who gives to all men generously and without reproaching, and it will be given him. Job 28:12 . . . James 1:5.

THE FINAL WORD . . .

Which, of course, is the editor's prerogative and my last chance to give explanations and credits.

First on my list of recognitions is my Business Manager, Danny Holder, and the Staff Advisor, Dr. Homer Pittard. It may be appropriately said that "behind every good editor there is a Business Manager." How true this statement is for the '65 Midlander. I know that Danny joins me in expressing appreciation to Dr. Pittard for his untiring efforts. Many were the hours past midnight that he wrote, and wrote, and wrote . . . copy for the Midlander. And, of great assistance was Mr. John T. Benson of Benson Printing Company who was so cheerful about the whole thing. We are indebted to Mr. Benson for the fine work that he and his company have done. Credit is due to Mr. Joseph Smith, Mr. Fred Aiken, Mr. John Benson, and Jim Norton for outstanding photography services. A big thanks to Mr. Sam Causey of Delbridge Studio for the colorful beauty section which we are especially proud of. A yearbook is made of blood, sweat, and pictures.

And, not to be forgotten are the staff members who contributed their time and efforts to make a successful Midlander. Appreciation is also expressed to those members who were not available at the time the Midlander staff pictures were made. My special thanks goes to Linda Wood who is responsible for much creative copy throughout the book, and to her father, Mr. Randy Wood of Dot Records who has been so kind to MTSC.

In connection with the Miss Midlander Pageant, a special word of thanks goes to Mr. Dave Overton, and Miss Pam Parker along with many others who made our show a success.

The editor is also grateful to Mrs. Donna Kay George for continuous help in every department.

The 1965 Midlander was printed in the offset lithographic process by Benson Printing Company of Nashville, Tennessee. Color pictures and advertisements of the '65 book outnumber any previous yearbook. The unusual color of the cover was chosen in connection with matching spot color and duotones seen in the first sixteen pages. We are extremely proud of this Midlander . . . and can only hope that you will be pleased, too . . . after all, it is the student's book.
